

THE CURTAIN OF LIQUID LILAC FIRE

Crescendo

2010

This sacred journey will take you to study the sacred geography of Heaven. In particular you will come across the amazing Field of Healing. Taking this journey may bring with it changes in your life that are unexpected but welcome as you are propelled forward into a new and exciting phase of soul living.

THE CURTAIN OF LIQUID LILAC FIRE – THE JOURNEY OF A LIFETIME

INTRODUCTION: Come with me on the journey of a lifetime through and beyond the Curtain of Liquid Lilac Fire. Seal Remove all the last expectations of family and friends and allow yourself to be the real you, the genuine article, the spirit in the body, the soul that you truly are. As you perform this journey all manner of new and fascinating information will be revealed to you and this information will benefit not only you personally, but it will be used for the greatest good of all concerned. Before you begin the journey make sure that you are well-prepared. Take a shower, change your clothes to clean ones, purify yourself and the room in which you will be working. It is also quite appropriate for you to decide whether you would like to take a friend on this journey – someone who can travel with you and enjoy every aspect of this process as a special friend. Select this person now and invite them to experience this journey with you. They will tell you quite clearly whether they wish to come or not.

THE PURPOSE OF THE JOURNEY: The purpose of this journey is to make sure that we are now totally able to let go of our ego and what it determines are appropriate outcomes in the physical world. Such a release should enable us to trust the promises of our present spiral of evolution at deeper and deeper levels. We will then be able to embrace the depth of our receptivity as we complete the circuit of love in giving and receiving within and without our essential selves.

THE JOURNEY BEGINS: When you feel ready, begin the journey as usual, as we always have in our previous explorations. You move with me outside your home and onto a giant moving stairway that takes us onwards and upwards into the sky. We travel happily on the staircase up and up, further and further into the sky passing the liquid stars hanging beside us so close that we feel we could reach out and touch them. We are mesmerised by the beauty of what we can see up here in the heavens and we look down on the tiny Mother Earth below us. And then we have arrived at the first major point on our journey – this is the position where Heaven and Earth meet. Look back at Mother Earth as you journey and realise just how small the Earth seems from your vantage point. As we reach the entrance we are aware that a number of the large angels, the ones with the most enormous wing spread that we have ever seen, are there to guide us to our destination. Be sure to greet them easily and in a friendly manner. Walk forward with their help and enter the tunnel that joins the two spheres. This is a remarkable link which you have journeyed through before – our goal is to go almost to the end of the tunnel, remembering that most people are unable to move through the entire tunnel but must go only half way – you have travelled many of these tunnels in the past but not quite like this.

We journey through the tunnel until we come to a point we have never noticed before – we have passed this way so often and now here we are seeing something where perhaps before there was nothing at all. A beautiful lyre bird that parades in from a small rabbit-like hole that marks the entry point draws our attention to the turning point. We ask ourselves whether this means our eyes are attuning differently or whether we are now capable of working in other exciting new dimensions. We decide upon the latter before we turn off into the new tunnel. As we stop to admire the lyre bird the hole becomes evident, it opens further and further, wider and wider still until it is shaped like a heart – we venture inside and find that we have passed from one dimension into another – and as we walk through a door clangs shut loudly behind us – and so we know there is no way back – we simply must walk forward together. And so we move forward, forward to our initiation in the realms of the Curtain of Fire. The tunnel weaves and bends before us and we follow one foot in front of the other secure in our understanding that this initiation will link us directly to our life purpose – it will open up different and added dimensions of our life so that we will be able to see our new journey in brilliant colour – it will accentuate it, hold it in 3dimensional form, make it clear to ourselves and to others who we really are – our family and friends will understand this new journey and there will be none of the friction of the past. They will support us and help us on our way – we will be enlivened following this process as if we have come through a long journey from dark to light, from night to day, from moon to sun – light will, we know and understand in every fibre of our being, stream through our light bodies, opening our intrinsic selves to true abundance.

As soon as we enter the tunnel we are suffused with a vivid combination of pearlescent and golden light. We are walking along the Goddess Walk, so named for us to see in a bright white light that flashes above our heads as we walk along. We are in no doubt as to where we are and our companions on this journey are some of the most illustrious Goddesses of all the ages. We step out further and realise that each one is the goddess herself in a different form waiting there to greet us and to speak with us giving us the benefit of her great wisdom. We journey onwards overawed and unable for a time to speak to any of those whom we see, although we gradually begin to identify which goddesses are there. We stop from time to time understanding the special words directed to us and taking these messages for understanding and for our own knowledge later.

THE JOURNEY INTENSIFIES: We move into another section of the tunnel – and on the walls are the most beautiful paintings, old masters which we recognise as well as a host of paintings of talent created by lesser known artists. Covered over with paintings on every surface and even on the ceiling, they glitter and glimmer at us. The paintings crowd the walls, energise our walk and pull us into their depths. Take some time to adventure. When you feel ready choose one painting. Here is one you admire – it is of Egypt and covers the curve in the wall giving the sensation of movement. Its subject is a dhow on the River Nile – we turn our bodies to walk up the curve and enter the painting knowing as we do that we will find the Goddess of 10,000 names, the Goddess Isis. The light is softening as we emerge in ancient Egypt as the sun gracefully sinks and we stand at the water’s edge waiting for inspiration. We find ourselves suddenly in front of the Sphinx. It has taken the form of the Goddess Isis. She rises above us, her stature extraordinary. We commune with her quietly in our own time, realising as we do that this is an appropriate time for us to petition the Goddess. Our past, present and futures merge as one and nothing seems to impede us – we are able to see everything, the meaning of our lives, the whole nuance of our soul’s progress, the meaning of our current tests – nothing could be clearer and Isis assists us in removing any hesitancy on our part to our ability to live our dream.

As we are in her presence we decide to stand in the Sign of the Wings of Isis, using that movement and breathing pattern to open ourselves fully to her energy. Firstly simply imagine her wings forming a protective umbrella over us all as we talk quietly to the goddess. To connect with another person compassionately, someone who is being healed by this journey you might imagine touching her or him if it is appropriate perhaps placing your left hand on your own heart and your right hand over hers or his. By using this combination of gestures and acts, and doing them in a conscious deliberate manner you will find that you can connect the person being healed with Isis, the Lady of Healing and so you form a gorgeous triangle bringing the three elements together – body, mind and spirit, and yourself, the one to be healed and the Lady Isis herself. Stand naturally and notice how you feel – now, using your dominant hand make a strong, sweeping gesture with your entire arm very deliberately – take a deep breath and control each muscle as you make the gesture – lift your head slightly and look off into the distance. Now repeat the gesture several more times and radiate your energy – imagine the energy continuing to expand in waves from the arc your arm has made. And now you have the wonder of a discussion with Isis about her role as the Black Madonna and as a model for Mary with the Christ-Child. She talks to you about her journeys to southern France and her images still honoured there and you journey with her as she explains the patterning that occurred.

And then it is time for the real business of this moment. Isis suddenly removes our hearts from our chests in quite a matter of fact way – she rubs them together with that our of our soul mate who is often the person for whom we are seeking healing – the interaction and the positive function before us heals our hearts and then runs through the body healing any part particularly in us or our soul mate where it is needed – there could be a need for reconnection to the source and if this is so then it happens at this particular time. These sensations bring a total sense of wellbeing to all those involved. It eliminates all pain and suffering in our physical selves – when the hearts are returned to the body cavities where they belong it lives and it feels so light and joyful that the vibrations are felt within all aspects of our bodies. Our hearts have danced heart to heart and there is a surrounding symphony of angels singing – we can hear the voices of angelic beings surrounding us with their extraordinary voices resonating through the night. Their songs bring tears to our eyes. We then call upon the great Goddess Isis to open the doors of the Chamber of Healing and Transmutation and all those whom we love who are at this moment suffering are invited in to the Chamber. As we stand there in awe of what is happening to us we see the doors opening up and the healing procession begins. We see a glimpse of the immediate future as we are going soon to enter the Healing Fields so that at last all is well in our world. Look at the Healing Fields and write this vision in your memory bank. A huge field extends beyond the Curtain of Lilac Fire – on the side that we have yet to penetrate. In this field acres and acres of it there are colourful tents as far as our eyes can see. The colours are vibrant and significant – bright and whole. And beside each tent stands an enormous angel of the same colour, red with red, blue with blue and so on. We know only what we have seen at this moment and we take courage from our new view of life to know that anything is possible.

When Isis has finished we are inspired to continue our own journey. Isis raises her arms in farewell – we now know that we will be able to see her at any time and seek her inspiration and support. Isis speeds us on our way and within an instant we are back standing in front of her painting – and then once again moving along the tunnel. In the joy of the moment the travel in the tunnel excels all expectations – we walk further and find we are drawn to the goddesses Mary and Quan Yin. Mary all in blue illuminates the next stage down the passage way – she smiles and acknowledges us knowing that the crux of our conversation today has been with Isis and then we stop in front of Quan Yin and she gives us the gift for which we have been waiting on this stage of our journey – the gift of true compassion. She hands it out from her position with the painting in a wonderful carved box – we open it and we inhale a powder which gives us the original essence of compassion – it travels into our bodies and stays there embedded in our cellular structure waiting for us to take the next stage of our journey. We find that not only are our hearts healed but the hearts of all our family members and our friends who may be suffering at this time. The energy and joy are quietly passed on for healing and regeneration purposes. Within ourselves we find a glowing sensation that is bringing a total sense of wellbeing which eliminates all pain and suffering in our own personal physical selves. We are gliding and gleaming now as we move further forward on this journey of journeys. We know our being has been embedded with the sense of primal trust – this means we are now totally able to let go of what our ego determines as outcomes and begin to move into our true soul journey.

THROUGH THE CURTAIN: As we pass through the curtain of liquid lilac fire and flame the dross is burnt from our bodies and we are renewed and healed at an even more intense level. As this happens an incredible feeling of elation takes hold of our bodies from head to foot and we look down and find that we are floating at least several metres above the ground. This phenomenon would be enough in itself to create an aura of extraordinary pleasure about us. However at the same time these words reverberate in our ears.

As I stand with you
Your symbols vibrate
They action and activate
Taking on a life of their own
They move us forward as One
You and I and Isis
A triumphant triangle
Energetic and enlightened
Enlivened and enchanted
And we vibrate in unison

Separately first, one by one

And then we turn and turn in one gigantic circle

Until we are through

The door opens vibrationally

As our sacred triangle

Has turned the special key

To our glorious future

We turn and turn

Our essence quivering

We generate harmony

Love, truth, compassion,

Caring, sensitivity

And most of all love

And all is well in our world

Great solid beams of light surround us as this invocation is said or chanted. As we walk into the lilac fire curtain we experience sensations similar to walking through a waterfall – all our bodies are cleansed and refreshed. We feel amazing sensations as we stand in our aura of self acceptance. Please craft a light body from the column of light in your spine. Accept yourself unconditionally. Open to your fully mystical power; align with the power of the seven – seven original chakras, seven planets, seven rays, seven steps of the pyramid, seven initial states of consciousness. At this point our new companions of destiny surround us, some long-standing companions and some new all here to support our new soul journey. Please take some time to acknowledge one another and recognise your destiny. Be very aware at this point of the journey of the existence of myriads of parallel futures. Realise that this is a special choice point. Pause and consider. Take your time. You can take any path now – do not be influenced by those around you but look within and take the path that you know to be the correct one for you and for those whom you love. This is a major advance. Be joyful and move forward once again.

THE HEALING FIELD OF HEAVEN– A SPECIAL ENTRY POINT: And now we are through and on the other side – we have walked through the lilac curtain. We have gone beyond the beyond. In front of us stretches a part of the intrinsic pattern of heaven, its sacred geometry that is rarely seen by those of us who journey in this way. We are in the HEALING FIELD OF HEAVEN. The Healing Field is a very important part of heaven, little known, dreamt about yet rarely seen. Stand at the entry point and take in the vista of the Healing Field. As far as your eyes can see there are small colourful tents and outside these tents stand the most vividly coloured angels you have ever seen. Each one is the brightest of bright colours and the vista of colours here contains many you have dreamt about but never actually seen. These are the large angels, the ones with the enormous wings. Certainly you have seen these angels before, their wing spans enormous, and their eyes bright with love, they have often acted as guides to the heavenly realms. But you have never seen them in such bright vibrant colours. Each one is positioned right next to a tent of exactly the same colour and vibration. The angels quiver with light and the tents do as well. And then you notice that each tent is filled with someone, a human being, who has requested healing. These individuals have journeyed momentous distances to achieve their aims, to obtain healing, to change their destinies, to alter their inherited DNA, to transform to light beings and yet still live on Mother Earth. And this is exactly what is happening here. The transformation is in progress. Should you be able to look further, you would see many whom you know, many whom you have led to this spot without knowing its exact situation. Guided by trust and truth you have often brought people here to the light energy fields, the Healing Field of Heaven for their loving restoration. Within the tent and with the help of the attending angel the person concerned is able to access any form of healing modality in existence – they have the ability to be guided into new healing fields in this remarkable place. The angelic beings who reside and work here know everything that there is to know about healing.

There is a chant resonating out through the Healing Field and, as your eyes and ears attune to this remarkable place, you gradually begin to absorb it- this is how it goes.

Touching Wings

I touch your wings

With my wing tips

As we stand in the circle

Of sacred fire

I watch you transform

And I am inspired

Your vitality zings

Through the web of life

Your creativity blossoms

You inspire others

To go through the hard times

As you have

And emerge victorious

On this delightful day.

As this refrain echoes across the Field you realise that it is acting as an invocation of the

Flame of Transfiguring Divine Love, which transcends all obstacles and they are transcended at all levels.

THE BELL OF DESTINY: And a message comes into your mind as you experience this magnificent refrain. It is this – you are now a co-creator of the unified field. We stand together our little band of travellers and take in the magic of the field and dream dreams of destiny. And as we dream gently together we are suddenly awoken by the refrain of a magical bell, THE BELL OF DESTINY that rings out across the Field. It is time for us to be leaving – it is time for visitors to depart and leave the angels and their companions of destiny to fulfil their magical contracts together in whatever way they deem appropriate. We turn to leave taking into our beings the beauty and joy of this sensational place and as we leave we hear the refrain of an angelic song in our minds. It goes something like this:

A River of Love

Flows from my soul into yours

It rushes through your body

Healing all ills with its warmth

It plays within your DNA

Pushing out anything that does not belong

Increasing your level of wellness and vitality

A River of Love

Galvanises your immunity

To all ills

It teases you and touches you

With its flirting flamboyance

And as this River of Love

Enters your system

The two of us unite

To become One

Return home in your own time and when you feel it is appropriate, slowly, slowly wake up and come back into the room. Write in your spiritual diary after this experience as many things may occur without your realising the connection with this special journey. And remember, return to the Healing Field whenever you feel able.
